First Vice-Pres. M. J. Andrews Dr. H. Harrison Dr. B. O. Cole Pres. R. H. Wagner

The presentation made to Dr. B. Olive Cole by the Alumni and Faculty of the School of Pharmacy of the University of Maryland on November 8, 1945, in commemoration of the completion of twenty-five years of faithful service to her Alma Mater.

Governor of the State of Maryland

February 7, 1946

It affords me the utmost pleasure, and I thank you sincerely for the opportunity of voicing a word of congratulation to the graduates of the School of Pharmacy through the yearly publication TERRA MARIAE. We in Maryland are, with good reason, proud of the University of Maryland and of its constituent professional schools, of which the School of Pharmacy is among the most important.

With the world feeling the dire effects of long years of war and privations and with the continuing health problems that must be faced by all nations as a result of lack of food, population readjustments and many other unsettling conditions, there will be the utmost need of intelligent helpfulness on the part of all associated with the practice of medicine and each graduate of the University of Maryland, School of Pharmacy of 1946 will find ample need for his services in the years ahead.

I congratulate you on completing such an important course in such a fine university. Only by the full use of the knowledge and skill gained therein can you feel that you have repaid to the people of the State and the nation the privileges which have been yours during the past few years.

With kindest regards, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

HERBERT R. O'CONOR

Governor

To the Members of the Class of 1946, I extend, not a farewell, but greetings as you enter into a new phase of your lives. What you have learned in the University you are now about to apply in the service of your fellowmen. I know that this service will be rendered with all the loyalty, honesty and intelligence of which the highest type of men and women are capable.

My congratulations on the opportunities open to you. I know that you will take full advantage of them. The best wishes of the University go with you and I express to you my personal hope that you will attain great success in your chosen business and profession. I have confidence that success awaits you.

Sincerely,

H. C. BYRD

29 April, 1946

The coming Commencement will be the first held by your Alma Mater since the end of the War and I have the feeling that you are looking forward to making it an occasion for celebration as was the custom in pre-war days.

There is real justification for celebration in that you now know you will be able to practice your profession under conditions which will permit you to devote all of your efforts to constructive service. And, there will be much constructive work to be done in the years immediately ahead. In addition to the services normally rendered by pharmacists, there will be much to be done in the way of helping to solve the problems arising from the readjustments that must be made to place us upon a peace-time basis.

I know that whatever may be required you will not shirk your responsibilities or obligations and that you will carry on according to the best Maryland tradition. It is, therefore, a pleasure for me to extend congratulations to you, the members of this year's graduating class, and to wish for you a full measure of success and happiness.

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

In 1841 a charter was obtained for the Maryland College of Pharmacy. The incorporators established courses in chemistry, pharmacy and materia medica, and directed the college until 1847, when lectures were suspended. In 1856, President G. W. Andrews called a meeting which resulted in a reorganization.

David Stewart gave the lectures in pharmacy, 1841-6. Following the reorganization, the chair was filled by I. J. Grahame, succeeded by L. Phillips. At Phillips' death, J. F. Moore was elected, and remained for nineteen years, after which he became Professor of Materia Medica. Charles Caspari, Jr., was Professor of Pharmacy, 1879-17, being succeeded by E. F. Kelly (1917-26) and J. C. Krantz, Jr. (1926-7). Dean A. G. DuMez now holds the professorship.

W. E. A. Aiken was lecturer in chemistry, 1841-6. Lewis Steiner was Professor of Chemistry for a number of years, succeeded by Professors Mayer, Helsby and De Rosset. Upon the latter's resignation (1873), William Simon was elected. Daniel Base succeeded Simon (1902), resigning in 1920. In 1936 G. L. Jenkins, Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry since 1927, resigned. W. H. Hartung is the present incumbent.

David Stewart and W. S. Reese were the lecturers in materia medica, 1841-6. C. P. Frick became Professor of Materia Medica at the reorganization, continuing until 1858, and succeeded by Frank Donaldson, I. R. Winslow, Claude Baxley, J. F. Moore and D. M. R. Culbreth. C. C. Plitt was Professor of Botany and Pharmacognosy until 1933. F. J. Slama has headed the department since 1938.

H. P. Hynson was Professor of Dispensing Pharmacy, 1902-16, succeeded by J. C. Wolf, the present incumbent. In 1913 courses in pharmaceutical arithmetic and law were added. In 1927 the work in commercial pharmacy was expanded. Later, a course in principles of economics was added. The Department of Economics is headed by B. Olive Cole, also Professor of Pharmaceutical Law.

In 1921 the curriculum was broadened to include academic subjects, and provisions were made for teaching bacteriology. A separate department for bacteriology was in charge of A. H. Bryan. Since 1937 this department has been headed by T. C. Grubb.

In 1930, through the generosity of Isaac E. Emerson, the Department of Pharmacology was organized to give instruction in bioassaying. M. R. Thompson was Emerson Professor, 1930-8, and was succeeded by C. W. Chapman, the present head of the department.

The presidents of the college have been such illustrious pharmacists as T. G. MacKenzie, B. R. Roberts, G. W. Andrews, J. B. Baxley, J. F. Moore, J. F. Hancock, Joseph Roberts, Edwin Eareckson, W. S. Thompson, Louis Dohme and C. E. Dohme.

Charles Caspari, Jr., was Dean of the college, 1896-1917. He was succeeded by Daniel Base (1917-8) and E. F. Kelly (1918-25). A. G. DuMez, the present Dean, succeeded Dr. Kelly.

The first classes were held in a small room at Gay and Baltimore Streets. From 1844-7 lectures were given in the amphitheatre of the University of Maryland at Lombard and Greene Streets. After the reorganization in 1856, classes were held in various rented halls. In 1876 Female Grammar School No. 3, on Aisquith Street, was purchased from the city and equipped for the work of the college. This building was torn down in 1887, and a three-story structure erected in its place, to be occupied until 1904, when the Maryland College of Pharmacy was amalgamated with the group of schools in Baltimore then known as the University of Maryland. At this time the college moved to Lombard and Greene Streets, where it has remained. In 1930 the college moved into the building which it now occupies.

The School of Pharmacy of the University of Maryland, beginning its existence as the Maryland College of Pharmacy, has exercised its functions since 1841, except for the period 1846-56. It was the first institution of its kind to establish a professorship of pharmacy, the first to have a course in the manufacture of the various galenical preparations of the United States Pharmacopeia and the National Formulary, and the first to have a separate course in dispensing pharmacy. It was also one of the first schools to make analytical chemistry obligatory. In still other lines its leadership has been manifest, particularly in the textbooks written by its professors and in its efforts to advance the standards of pharmaceutical education. The first convention of representatives of colleges of pharmacy was held in Baltimore in 1870, on invitation of Dr. Hynson, a member of the faculty. Again in 1900 Dr. Hynson issued the call for the conference of pharmaceutical educators which resulted in the formation of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. In the light of these distinctions, it is not surprising that the school holds a position in the front ranks of institutions of its kind in the country.

Fellow Classmates:

Together we have ot last reached our goal. After four years of work, toil and study we are about to take leove of our school; about to put to practical use the learnings ond skills of our profession.

THE DRUGGIST'S PRAYER

By Fred A. Gonya

May his occupation never become a drug on the market, as long as he sticks like plaster to business.

May he never be bruised in the mortar of adversity by the pestle of misfortune, and may his rise in his profession be as accurately marked as his graduate measure.

May his career be as unsullied as distilled water, and as smooth and pleasant as strained honey. May his success never be alloyed by a mixture of ill luck or a tincture of regret.

May his counter prove the crucible whereby he transmits human ailments into precious metal and precipitates the golden deposits into his own pocket. May he never be called upon to swallow the bitter pill of disappointment or be macerated in the cruel spirit of enmity. Should fickle fortune ever refuse him her smiles, may he find an antidote in the soothing opiate of a woman's love, strengthened by the tonic of experience and purified by the sudorific of patience.

Thus his best days being evaporated and the lamp of his existence past trimming, when Dr. Death sends to his shop his dreadful prescription endorsed to be taken at bedtime, may he be found carefully prepared, accurately dispensed, permanently entered into the daybook of memory, neatly put up in the white wrapper of purity, sealed with the melting tears of loving friends, stamped with the trade mark of honesty, and duly labeled and directed to heaven.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

"In the last war the pharmacist distinguished himself notably. It is not difficult to cite many noble deeds, one of which is the successful emergency appendectomy performed by a pharmacist while in a submerged submarine.

No doubt, the present four year course is responsible for the pharmacist being well prepared for his profession. Pharmacy is well recognized and this recognition must be maintained and intensified in peace as in war."

The Rho Chi Society evolved from a local pharmaceutical organization which was established at the University of Michigan, College of Pharmacy, on May 4, 1908. The local group chose the name of the "Aristolochite Society."

It was founded as The Rho Chi Society at the University of Michigan, in the City of Ann Arbor, in the year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Two, and incorporated in that year.

Chapters of Rho Chi may be established only at recognized colleges of pharmacy. Eligibility for membership is based on the completion of 75 credit hours of college work and the attainment of certain prescribed standards for scholarship, character, personality, and leadership.

The object of Rho Chi has always been twofold, namely, to promote the advancement of pharmaceutical sciences and to promote good fellowship. The Society has, therefore, done much good in the schools where chapters have been established, since the reward of election to membership supplies a scholarship incentive unequalled by any of the other rewards. A third objective has developed in recent years, that of stimulating research in the pharmaceutical sciences.

Juniors: Howard Pippig; Howard Sirulnik; Josephine DiGristine.
Sophomores: Shirley Shulman; Stuart Shpritz.
Freshmen: Leroy Werley; Gertrude Robson; Richard Steinhilber.

The Student Council of the School of Pharmacy was organized on April 7, 1926. The Council is a representative group composed of twelve members, three elected from each class. It supervises, in a general way, the social and athletic activities of the school, and seeks to encourage and foster in the student body a friendly and wholesome spirit which will reflect honor on the splendid traditions of the University.

The Student Council has been a means of instilling a feeling of fellowship among the students, and has continually worked for the development of harmony and co-operation between the student body and the faculty. The Council has sought to instill in each student the desire to conduct himself honestly, fairly, and courteously in all his activities, both within and without the University. The liberal policy which has characterized its supervision of the extra-curricular activities has met with the general approval and co-operation of the student body.

V. SCHOEN H. A. PIPPIG J. S. MEYERS

The Students' Auxiliary of the Maryland Pharmaceutical Association began its eleventh year's work to promote progress and to guard the welfare of the profession, to promote a closer relationship between pharmacists and students of pharmacy, and to familiarize the students of pharmacy with the conditions confronting their profession.

The number of students present at each meeting and the interest exhibited by these students has shown that they are becoming aware of the importance of a closer relationship of the student and the outside problems of pharmacy.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

The TERRA MARIAE 1946 was not without its difficulties. We began the year, knowingly, with a shortage of paper, print and photographic supplies. New ideas and plans which the editors had at the outset of this publication were checked, if not entirely cancelled by the shortage of materials and of money. Nevertheless, we kept our chins up; we were determined to publish the best possible TERRA MARIAE.

We sincerely hope that this book will recollect for you fond memories of your college days. If we have succeeded in this attempt then we feel that our job has not been in vain.

The staff extends its appreciation to the following persons for their capable advice and cooperation: Dean A. G. DuMez, Dr. Frank J. Slama, Mr. S. C. Schultz, printer's representative, Dr. B. Olive Cole, Dr. Adele Ballman, Mrs. D. E. Gue and the staff of the Pharmacy and Dental Library.

Rept.

If pharmacists wrote prescriptions for themselves, it's a pretty sure bet that they would write "Repetatur" after a stay at the Lord Baltimore.

For years now, this great hotel has been host to many of the students and alumni of the School of Pharmacy. There's a lot of "know-how" behind its reputation for solid comfort, convenience and thoughtful service. You'll like it!
